PREFACE

The impetus for the Newton Free Library to preserve and index the handwritten documents of the Grand Army of the Republic: Applications for and Transfers to Charles Ward Post 62 was the Sesquicentennial of the American Civil War in 2013. Work on these documents commenced in 2010, so that both the preservation and indexing would be completed by the 150th anniversary of the War.

The applications for and transfers to this fraternal organization of veterans were found in the library's Newton Collection in 1991, when the Newton Free Library moved from its original location at 414 Centre Street, Newton Corner to its new site at 300 Homer Street, Newton Center. These applications and transfers were originally pasted into four acid bound volumes that had deteriorated and were in need of preservation.

The four original volumes were preserved by Northeast Documents Center in two ways. The documents within the books were de-acidified and laminated. Then the documents were re-assembled into acid free books that utilized the same numbering system as was found in the original volumes. Finally, the four books were then placed on microfilm; two volumes per roll.

The documents themselves were all written during the mid- and late – 19th Century. These documents were written mostly in script that would not be familiar to the reader in the 21st Century and it became apparent that extensive research on the writing used in the 19th Century would be needed in order to clearly identify the veterans listed on the documents.

Two dedicated volunteers, Alice Wolpert and Henrietta Dilyock, and I completed the research needed to identify the civil war veterans listed in the documents. This completed index clearly identifies the veterans named on the applications and transfers.

INTRODUCTION

The Grand Army of the Republic (GAR) founded in 1866 was a fraternal, non-segregated, organization composed of veterans of the Union Army, US Navy, Marines and Revenue Cutter Service who served in the American Civil War. When the last member died in 1956, the GAR was dissolved.

Veterans of the Civil War living in Newton established the Charles Ward Post (No. 62) of the Grand Army of the Republic, on July 21, 1868 in Newton, Massachusetts. The post was named after Charles Ward, a descendant of Newton's early settlers, who entered the army as a volunteer and died on the field in Gettysburg. The organization was headquartered in the Masonic building at Newtonville. As of February 2014, this impressive brick building still stands on the corner of Newtonville Avenue and Walnut Street.

This work is the index to four volumes of applications for and transfers to become members of Charles Ward Post 62 during the mid- and late-19th Century. The collection consists chiefly of printed applications/forms/certificates which were filled in by hand. Some records also contain age, occupation, place of birth, and, occasionally, injuries sustained.

A question mark [?] in brackets after a name or initial means the original handwritten name or initial could not be verified through other resources such as the Newton City Directories, the Civil War cards at the Newton Department of Veterans' Services, the book entitled the Massachusetts Soldiers, Sailors and Marines in the Civil War, the Massachusetts Civil War Research Center, the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War web site, and various other Civil War internet resources.

The early 19th Century was an era of transformation for bookbinding. These four volumes were handmade during the 19th century at the Charles Ward Post No. 62, in Newtonville, Massachusetts. This in-house construction may account for the reverse page numbering in Volumes One, Two and Four and the more familiar numbering system in Volume Three.

The books of applications and transfers, except for Volume Three were numbered from back to front. This means the first page of the book is the highest numbered page in the book and conversely the last page in the book is the lowest number page. Volume Three is numbered from front to back. The first page of Volume Three is numbered as page one.

This index is arranged into two parts: Part I is an alphabetical list of names; Part II is a list of names as they appear in the original four volumes. This work then is a two-part guide designed to give the reader/viewer easy access to the names on the applications, certificates, forms and transfer cards as documented in the four preserved volumes and two microfilm rolls.
